

Dr. McVey To Address First Fall Convocation On Wednesday, Oct. 6

President Emeritus
To Speak At 10 A.M.
On Venezuelan Trip

"Venezuela Yesterday and Today" will be the subject of Dr. Frank L. McVey, president emeritus of the University, when he addresses the first convocation of the Fall quarter at 10 a. m., Wednesday, Oct. 6.

Dr. McVey will tell of his experiences in Venezuela where he was called last March by the Venezuelan government to advise on the development of the Central University of the country at Caracas.

For three months Dr. McVey worked on plans for the reorganization and relocation of the University. He advised on plans for the campus, buildings, courses of study, staff, library, laboratory facilities, and housing of students.

He will include in his talk information on the hopes, ambitions, history, and problems of the country and its struggle for liberty and freedom from the Spanish regime.

Dr. McVey will also discuss the relations of the United States to the Spanish-American republics and the importance of good fellowship and understanding with them.

The convocation schedule for the remainder of the quarter will be as follows with the possibility of changes:

Thursday, October 21, 11 a. m., John Temple Graves.
Tuesday, November 16, 10 a. m., President H. L. Donovan.
Friday, December 10, 11 a. m. (tentative), University Choralists' Annual Christmas Carol Program.

Mrs. John R. Evans Is Social Director For Student Union

Mrs. John R. Evans, the former Dorothy Hillenmeyer, has been appointed social director of the Union building to replace Miss Dorothy Collins. Miss Collins resigned to accept a position in Virginia.

Mrs. Evans was graduated from the University in 1940. While a student she was president of Delta Delta Delta, social sorority, and of the Student Union board. She was a member of Cwens, leadership fraternity for sophomore women, and of Mortar Board, senior women's leadership fraternity.

All new students who are interested in becoming members of the staff of The Kernel are asked to report to the Kernel News room, McVey hall, after 2 p. m. today.

A compulsory meeting of all staff members, both new and old, will be held at 3 p. m. Monday in the News room.

Lanes Purchased

The University's purchase of the Colonial Bowling Lanes from William I. Bippus was announced this summer by Frank Peterson, controller of the University.

James O'Brien, present operator of the lanes, will continue to manage the business under a lease.

PEAK TO TALK AT FELLOWSHIP

Supper Served
At 5:30 Sunday

The Fellowship group of the Maxwell Street Presbyterian Church will meet at 5:30 Sunday evening. Supper will be served and Bart N. Peak, secretary of the YMCA, will speak on "Staking Out Your Claim."

The annual retreat was held at Fahoma Lodge, Clay's ferry, to make plans for the coming year. It was decided that the meeting time will be changed to 5:30 so that soldiers might attend. This year the group will sponsor a project for entertainment of the crippled children at the Good Samaritan hospital and will construct toys for children in a local nursery.

Gay Nineties Party In Union Tonight

A "Gay Nineties Party at Pluffy's Tavern" will be given for all freshmen and transfer students from 8 to 10 o'clock tonight, in the Card room, Union building.

Sponsored by Cwens and Mortar Board, women's leadership fraternities, the party will feature special songs and games.

The Return Of The Native, Or, Back At The Old Stand

By Pfc. Ed Barnes

Rapidly being coined the "senior commandos" the old junior class of advanced ROTC's is once again tripping through the bluegrass dew on the University campus. It's all by order of Uncle Sam, however, after our eighteen-week summer vacation in Texas most of us wouldn't trade one little blade of bluegrass for all the blue bonnets in the world. And as Jiggs Davis pointed out, we're all in this conflict now for the duration plus nine months . . . the extra three is to fight Mexico in case they don't want to take Texas back.

When asked what he thought of infantry basic training, William "Slip Slide and Fall Down" Spears was quoted as saying, "Hell couldn't possibly be worse." Others such as Bill (you ask him the nickname) Caywood and B. T. Duncan merely exclaimed that they are glad basic training is one history course they won't have to repeat. "Colonel Pete" Triplett and "Tiddy" Bell were too busy chasing after Patti-Gay and Leslie Bruce to be bothered with questions.

Of course the old campus has changed, but ninety-nine per cent of the Camp Walters boys eagerly agree that the new crop of freshman girls is something certainly nice to come home to . . . yes sir, they really put up the best freshman from seen around these parts in many a moon; but fellow, be careful not to make any dates in Patterson hall. On the other hand, you'll probably find a real live girl in your old fraternity room instead of the Petty paper dolls . . . and I still can't get over the fact that the first thing Lieut. Erickson said when we stepped from the train was, "Men, tonight you'll sleep in

Frosh Blunder No. 1

Okay, freshmen, you're in for it. We were going to forget our traditional series of frosh blunder stories since someone told us you were a bit brighter than usual. But you've done it again. Two of you were walking over the campus this week, looking at the markers outside the buildings. "Say, Joe," one drawled, "looks like everyone who ever died around here was named Hall."

COLLEGE NIGHT TO BE SATURDAY

Carnival, Amateurs,
Dance On Schedule

College Night, consisting of a carnival, an amateur hour, and a dance, will be held at 7 p. m. Saturday in the Union building. These activities are being sponsored by the Student Government association, the Student Union board, and the YW-YMCA.

Beginning at 7 p. m., the carnival will feature bingo, a magician act, fortune telling, a fish pond, a ventriloquist, and other games and stunts.

The amateur hour will begin at 8:30 p. m. Both military and civilian students, who have the ability to perform, are asked to participate. All persons willing to appear on the program are requested to report to the information desk of the Union building as soon as possible.

Smoke Richardson's orchestra will furnish the music for the dance which will begin at 9:30 p. m. in the Bluegrass room.

Preference Cards To Be Signed Today

The signing of sorority preference cards from 9 to 12 a. m. today in room 204 of the Union and the receiving of sorority bids at 4 p. m. tomorrow in Memorial hall will climax Panhellenic rush week, which was initiated last Saturday.

Activities for the 225 rushees included teas on Saturday and Sunday, parties on Tuesday and Wednesday, and preference parties on Thursday.

Mrs. Sarah B. Holmes, Dean of Women, announced a decrease of twenty-five in the number of women who registered for rushing this year and those who signed for last year's activities.

A Texas Tale

Up from Texas with our ex-juniors comes the tale of one of their number who went before an Officers' Candidate School board.

Said the Colonel to the private: "The next time I see you I hope you have a second lieutenant's bar on your shoulder."

Said the flustered private: "The same to you, sir."

"Picture shows now and then; British officers' club; no trees; wind; fishing and cod liver oil; farming and sheep raising; native old Nordic descendants of Vikings; culture of their own; very stand-offish," is the forbidding description of Flying Officer Sidney C. Coale, Upper Montclair, N. J., gives of his R.A.F. Coastal command post in Iceland. Flying Officer Coale, who enlisted in Montreal in July, 1941, had already learned to fly with the CAA at the University.

He plans to transfer to the USAAF in the near future, but thinks he will likely be with the RAF until his tour of operations is finished. He flies a Hudson and is said to be an expert in navigation, the forte of all Coastal command pilots.

Twenty-five former University students have reported to the Army Air Forces Pre-Flight School for Pilots at Maxwell Field, Ala., to begin the third phase of their pilot training. Here they will receive nine weeks of intensive physical, military and academic instruction, preparatory to beginning their actual flight training at a primary flying school.

Aviation Cadet Jack A. Ross, of Louisville, has arrived at the Big Spring Bombardier school, Big Spring, Texas, to pursue a twelve weeks' course as a bombardier cadet. Upon satisfactory completion of his training here he will win his silver wings as a bombardier and be appointed a flying officer in the Army Air forces. He attended the University in 1940-41.

Soon to receive his silver pilot's wings and officer's bars at the Army's twin-engine advanced flying school at Pampa Army Air field, Pampa, Texas, is Aviation Cadet George E. Shelley, Lexington, a former University student.

Military Review Set Saturday

A military review will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday on Stoll field, it has been announced. Six companies of ASTP men, including the ASTP and the ROTC-ASTP, will pass in parade. This includes all military men on the campus with the exception of the basic ROTC men.

All interested persons have been invited to attend, according to Col. B. E. Brewer.

WAA ACTIVITIES BEGIN TUESDAY

Archery, Hockey
To Head Schedule

The Women's Athletic association has completed its schedule of sports and will officially swing into action Tuesday with archery and field hockey being played every afternoon. Elizabeth Faulkner, WAA president, announced recently. The Council will meet next Monday to discuss plans for the year's program of women's sports.

Archery will be conducted each week-day from 3 to 4 p. m. under the supervision of Bonnie Miller and Jean Crabb. Hockey will be played from 4 to 5 p. m. on the field behind University High school with Lucille Clarke and Betty Lee Fleishman in charge. The archery season will last for six weeks while hockey will extend for a period of twelve weeks.

The WAA officers which were elected last spring were announced recently. They are Elizabeth Faulkner, president; Kathryn Johnstone, vice-president; Carolyn Hill, secretary; and Helen Harrison, treasurer.

The WAA Council which was selected last week includes Jean Bureau and Betty Swift, volleyball; Bonnie Miller and Jean Crabb, archery; Carolyn Hill and Mary Jane Dorsey, basketball; Lucille Clarke and Betty Lee Fleishman, hockey; Marjorie Paimore and Anne Mitchell, softball; Claudine Gibson, tennis; Mary Searcy, bowling; Lucille Clarke, swimming; and Anne Taylor, golf.

All women, both freshmen and upperclassmen, who are interested in any type of sports offered by WAA are asked to attend the sessions.

War Activities To Be On Air

The war activities of the Universities will be included on "The University Goes to War," a program now in production at the University of Southern California, Allice Watkins, chairman of the information committee from the University, has announced.

In a letter from the president of Trojan Radio Productions, Miss Watkins was asked to submit sufficient data on the activities of the students to make up a fifteen minute broadcast. Information on the trainees and their activities, humorous and ordinary occurrences, programs, fraternities and the future outlook will be sent to the radio studios in California.

The program will go on the air around the first of November and the University will be notified of the exact date, Miss Watkins stated.

Tea To Be Served In Jewell Hall

Jewell hall, the women's dormitory, and other women's auxiliary residence units under the jurisdiction of the University will hold open house from 4 to 6 Sunday afternoon for men and women students, soldiers, faculty, and friends.

Women will be "at home" in the Lydia Brown, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Nu, Phi Delta Theta, and Kappa Sigma houses and the Patt hall annex at 273 South Limestone st. Refreshments will be served at Jewell hall.

Virginia Long Edits Annual; Kyian To Appear In January

Pictures Taken
October 5-14

With Virginia Long as editor, the Kentuckyian will be published in January for the first time in the history of the annual. The yearbook was published in May heretofore.

Miss Long explained that the speed-up in production will enable the class graduating in December to obtain the book. The fact that no football pictures will be included will make it possible for the annual to be published earlier than usual.

Micki Bogan has been appointed as business manager. The position of managing editor has been combined with that of the editor. Miss Long announces that positions as

1200 Military Men On Campus; Women Placed In New Houses

Five Frat Houses,
Other Residences
Utilized For Coeds

All residence halls and sorority houses on the campus are filled to capacity, Mrs. Sarah B. Holmes, dean of women, has announced. There are 167 women housed in sorority houses and 150 in residence halls.

Because the Army has taken over two of the women's dormitories, women students are now living in the former Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Nu, Sigma Chi, and Kappa Sigma fraternity houses.

In addition to these houses, a large residence has been utilized on Harrison avenue. Formerly the Harrison Inn, it has been named the Lydia Brown house. Five private residences have also been organized as auxiliary residences.

All houses have been completely redecorated and wired, and competent housemothers have been placed in charge, Dean Holmes said.

As formerly, only upperclassmen will live in sorority houses. The Sigma Chi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Lydia Brown houses are for freshmen only.

The Boyd hall dining room has been kept for the use of the women and all residence hall women will continue to eat there.

COURSES GIVEN LOCAL GROUPS

Classes Offered
In A&S, Education

Late afternoon and night courses, offered for business and professional men and women of Lexington and vicinity will be given by the College of Arts and Sciences and the College of Education during the fall quarter.

Fees for part-time undergraduate students taking less than nine quarter hours will be $3 for each quarter hour credit; and for graduate students $4 for each hour. No student may enroll later than October 7.

Courses to be offered in education include industrial arts for elementary grades, science in the elementary school, local school administration, study of great educators and their work, supervision of instruction, history of education in Kentucky, and problems in public school and community music.

In the arts and sciences college the following courses will be given: touch football and folk dancing for men and women; business English; first aid, survey of music literature, and these courses not open to lower division students; Renaissance art; regional geology, social and political factors in contemporary civilization; three courses in library science which will include the place, function, and administration of the library; two courses on children's literature; and two courses in physical education—administration and organization of recreational, and organization of intramural sports.

An announcement listing the courses may be obtained from the Department of University Extension or the office of the registrar.

Kyian Calls Staff

A meeting of all persons interested in working on the Kentuckyian, University yearbook, will be held at 4 p. m., Monday in the basement of McVey hall, Virginia Long, editor, has announced.

All students are requested to bring copies of their schedules to the meeting.

always glad to have them at our

Another Fall, Another UK

The old fall rush of activity has started once more, but there have definitely been some changes made. The University is at last on a full war-time basis after almost two years.

Old alums will probably shudder when they hear that their fraternity house is now designated as a women's residence hall. Soldiers will blush at their "Women's Gym" mailing address.

But it's all indicative of the good job that the University has done in meeting the many problems that it has confronted.

We've all been inconvenienced in some way by the changes. From where we stand we see the doubling up in the dorms and the changes in the schedules taken with the best of humor.

It's a strange set-up we'll admit. The University could be called by two additional names: Kentucky Military Academy, and Kentucky Female Seminary.

Problems are bound to arise between the civilian and military components. There has already been a great deal of horseplay among the women, the civilian men, the ASTP, the ASTRP, and the ROTC-ASTP. That the joking has been so widespread is proof of its good-natured quality.

To incoming freshmen usually bewildered enough by the University in normal times we offer only the advice to "take it easy." Frankly, we upperclassmen are bewildered too.

The University is still its old self but in a new dress. The position of women has changed very little. Beneath the uniform is still the same college man. Maybe from a different college, but still an American youth with the same ideas and ideals that Kentucky men had before him.

Professors are still the same too—perhaps in-

TO THE UK MILITARY ON WHY NO KERNEL

We want you to feel that The Kernel is your paper. We regret that our many plans for providing every one of you with a subscription to The Kernel did not work out.

Civilians, soldiers, or professors—we're all in it and we're out to win it. May we all do our part as a member of the heterogeneous University family.

There has been some misunderstanding as to why civilian students receive the paper and Army men do not. The answer is that the subscription price for The Kernel is included in the fees paid at registration. The Army has made no such provision for its personnel. We had considered giving the paper free to all soldiers stationed on the campus, but postal regulations made this impossible.

The Kernel will carry all news of the military men at UK. We are now using a regular column written by one of you, and hope to expand this department. Those of you who like to write are invited to bring us your material.

You now form a majority of the students at the University. You will enter into all campus activities. The Kernel, as the newspaper of the University, will be your paper. We are sorry that it had to work out this way, but if you want to receive your paper you will have to take out a subscription. A desk has been set up in the postoffice today for your convenience.

G. I. Sweepings...

By BABY

Dear Goods,

Now that your summer vacation has ended, you realize undoubtedly how much a furlough must mean to us, the ASTP unit of UK. But despite the fact that we look forward to our furlough, we also want to make the most of our stay here.

We want to participate in all your affairs, join clubs composed both of soldiers and civilians, spend our only free evening with one of you, and generally just have a good time with you as company.

Yes, the campus did look rather dull these past four weeks. It reminded most of us of our basic training—marching in formation to every place one wants to go, using the same route. The ever present dull khaki color seemed to be everywhere we turned. But with your return, things have changed for the better.

No doubt you have noticed some of the changes that have been made since you left. In particular I am thinking of the new entrance, or better call it exit, to the cafeteria, and the courts bounded by the Men's gym, the Armory, Stoll field, and Euclid ave.

Whether they beautify the campus is not the point in question. They were constructed to relieve undue pressure which raised the prevailing facilities. Consequently now and even af-

An Ex-Student Thinks Of UK

Dear Editor:

It is with great eagerness and anticipation that I await each new issue of The Kernel. When I was at the University, and had only to walk to McVey hall twice each week for The Kernel, I doubt if I really appreciated just what it meant to me. Now that The Kernel comes so infrequently I fully realize just how much light it can bring into my day!

Should I ever think I am far removed from the University; its people, buildings, walks, the grass and the trees, I have only to take a look at one of the old Kernels. When I read of life at the Grill, the hurried attempt for a coke at McVey, and the "gab-fests" in the Union lounge, I am reminded that all is near, and that I'll be returning to those things some day.

Yes, I am sure life at the University has changed. But it has not changed so much that those of us who left could enjoy it again. It will always be the same to us. We will continue to remember it as it was when we left. It will have changed only after we have returned.

I have made many wonderful friends in the Air Corps, but none shall be more indelible in my memory than those I knew at the University. College contacts seem to outlast all others!

Life here on the island is far removed from the enjoyable and care-free days at the University. Suppose I should have been disappointed when Dorothy Lamour failed to meet me upon my arrival here. Can't say that I've found a reasonable substitute, but I have learned to get along without all the finer things of life that supposedly go hand-in-hand with these so-called "paradise" islands. You might term it resignation to one's fate.

All is not aboriginal here. We have many of the common ways of life. Movies are to be enjoyed three days each week. USO shows are presented occasionally. Just now we are having Laing Hatfield, the Metropolitan baritone.

For homes we have tents which some of us have screened in to keep out the mosquitoes. For rest and relaxation we get an occasional trip to Sydney, Australia. This is really a wonderful place. There, for seven days, you can forget the war and all its unpleasant memories. Everyone concentrates on having the best time possible. And money is no problem after you have been in (dorms) for several months. Can't spend it up here. Would like to drop in for one

In days of strife
When everything is rife

The University
Always opens its gates so massive
To little freshmen both active and passive
This year will be the same
Even if Ermina is your name
We say Hi
To Joe and Si
To Malcolm
A hearty welcome
To Mabel and Rhea
We're glad to see ya
But we seem to find a little exception
To this you might as well get hip, son
This year the fresh are not so verde (That's green in Spanish—makes the poem more wordy)
With crimson lips and long black tresses
Sideward glances and stinky dresses
This crop of freshmen knows the score—
No need for hours and teas gal-

So
Let's now join in a rousing cheer
For these our freshmen near and dear
Let's make it loud and lusty
Not stereotyped and rusty

We are sorry that no edition of The Kernel was published just before the soldiers from Fort Phoenix finished their courses. We would have liked to have told them that we were
always glad to have them at our school during the year and were sorry to see them leave. Over three thousand men were trained on our campus to be drafters, surveyors, and topographical engineers, and never was there a nicer group of men stationed anywhere. Of course they are all gone now but perhaps a few of them may still happen to see The Kernel.

Another Fall, Another UK

The old fall rush of activity has started once more, but there have definitely been some changes made. The University is at last on a full war-time basis after almost two years.

Old alums will probably shudder when they hear that their fraternity house is now designated as a women's residence hall. Soldiers will blush at their "Women's Gym" mailing address.

But it's all indicative of the good job that the University has done in meeting the many problems that it has confronted.

We've all been inconvenienced in some way by the changes. From where we stand we see the doubling up in the dorms and the changes in the schedules taken with the best of humor.

It's a strange set-up we'll admit. The University could be called by two additional names: Kentucky Military Academy, and Kentucky Female Seminary.

Problems are bound to arise between the civilian and military components. There has already been a great deal of horseplay among the women, the civilian men, the ASTP, the ASTRP, and the ROTC-ASTP. That the joking has been so widespread is proof of its good-natured quality.

To incoming freshmen usually bewildered enough by the University in normal times we offer only the advice to "take it easy." Frankly, we upperclassmen are bewildered too.

The University is still its old self but in a new dress. The position of women has changed very little. Beneath the uniform is still the same college man. Maybe from a different college, but still an American youth with the same ideas and ideals that Kentucky men had before him.

Professors are still the same too—perhaps in-

TO THE UK MILITARY ON WHY NO KERNEL

We want you to feel that The Kernel is your paper. We regret that our many plans for providing every one of you with a subscription to The Kernel did not work out.

Civilians, soldiers, or professors—we're all in it and we're out to win it. May we all do our part as a member of the heterogeneous University family.

There has been some misunderstanding as to why civilian students receive the paper and Army men do not. The answer is that the subscription price for The Kernel is included in the fees paid at registration. The Army has made no such provision for its personnel. We had considered giving the paper free to all soldiers stationed on the campus, but postal regulations made this impossible.

The Kernel will carry all news of the military men at UK. We are now using a regular column written by one of you, and hope to expand this department. Those of you who like to write are invited to bring us your material.

You now form a majority of the students at the University. You will enter into all campus activities. The Kernel, as the newspaper of the University, will be your paper. We are sorry that it had to work out this way, but if you want to receive your paper you will have to take out a subscription. A desk has been set up in the postoffice today for your convenience.

G. I. Sweepings...

By BABY

Dear Goods,

Now that your summer vacation has ended, you realize undoubtedly how much a furlough must mean to us, the ASTP unit of UK. But despite the fact that we look forward to our furlough, we also want to make the most of our stay here.

We want to participate in all your affairs, join clubs composed both of soldiers and civilians, spend our only free evening with one of you, and generally just have a good time with you as company.

Yes, the campus did look rather dull these past four weeks. It reminded most of us of our basic training—marching in formation to every place one wants to go, using the same route. The ever present dull khaki color seemed to be everywhere we turned. But with your return, things have changed for the better.

No doubt you have noticed some of the changes that have been made since you left. In particular I am thinking of the new entrance, or better call it exit, to the cafeteria, and the courts bounded by the Men's gym, the Armory, Stoll field, and Euclid ave.

Whether they beautify the campus is not the point in question. They were constructed to relieve undue pressure which raised the prevailing facilities. Consequently now and even af-

An Ex-Student Thinks Of UK

Dear Editor:

It is with great eagerness and anticipation that I await each new issue of The Kernel. When I was at the University, and had only to walk to McVey hall twice each week for The Kernel, I doubt if I really appreciated just what it meant to me. Now that The Kernel comes so infrequently I fully realize just how much light it can bring into my day!

Should I ever think I am far removed from the University; its people, buildings, walks, the grass and the trees, I have only to take a look at one of the old Kernels. When I read of life at the Grill, the hurried attempt for a coke at McVey, and the "gab-fests" in the Union lounge, I am reminded that all is near, and that I'll be returning to those things some day.

Yes, I am sure life at the University has changed. But it has not changed so much that those of us who left could enjoy it again. It will always be the same to us. We will continue to remember it as it was when we left. It will have changed only after we have returned.

I have made many wonderful friends in the Air Corps, but none shall be more indelible in my memory than those I knew at the University. College contacts seem to outlast all others!

Life here on the island is far removed from the enjoyable and care-free days at the University. Suppose I should have been disappointed when Dorothy Lamour failed to meet me upon my arrival here. Can't say that I've found a reasonable substitute, but I have learned to get along without all the finer things of life that supposedly go hand-in-hand with these so-called "paradise" islands. You might term it resignation to one's fate.

All is not aboriginal here. We have many of the common ways of life. Movies are to be enjoyed three days each week. USO shows are presented occasionally. Just now we are having Laing Hatfield, the Metropolitan baritone.

For homes we have tents which some of us have screened in to keep out the mosquitoes. For rest and relaxation we get an occasional trip to Sydney, Australia. This is really a wonderful place. There, for seven days, you can forget the war and all its unpleasant memories. Everyone concentrates on having the best time possible. And money is no problem after you have been in (dorms) for several months. Can't spend it up here. Would like to drop in for one

Symbol of Service

... in peace and war

This emblem is familiar throughout the nation as the symbol of a well-trained team, integrated for service in peace or war—The Bell Telephone System.

1. American Telephone & Telegraph Co. coordinates all Bell System activities.
2. Twenty-one Associated Companies provide telephone service in their own territories.
3. The Long Lines Department of A. T. & T. handles long distance and overseas calls.
4. Bell Telephone Laboratories carries on scientific research and development.
5. Western Electric Co. is the manufacturing, purchasing and distributing unit.

The benefits of the nation-wide service provided by these companies are never so clear as in time of war.

Writer Protests Panhellenic Action

Dear Editor:

It seems to us, a totally impartial observer, that this Panhellenic vs. Independent battle degenerated into a brawl last Monday night. Of course we're just being descriptive; it wasn't really as bad as all that. But it was regrettable when the YM-YW's Loyalty Circle, long a campus tradition, was weakly attended because Panhellenic had allowed rush parties to be scheduled that evening.

There is always a subtle rivalry in progress between Some Sorority Members and Some Independents. But, we think we are safe in saying that among the majority of both groups, a friendly relationship exists. We are curious, however, as to the cause of the Y's being impeded by Panhellenic parties. We thought that plans were made to avoid such conflicts. We thought that such was one of the reasons for the existence of Panhellenic.

We hope that next year at Rush Week, we will be able to have the usual frenzy of sorority parties, and at the same time preserve the yearly customs which have become a part of University life.

Sincerely yours,
Neutral

Dr. McVey Urges Planning Board

Speaking in the concluding broadcast in a series on "Kentucky in Prospect" from the University studios over Station WHAS, Dr. Frank L. McVey, president emeritus, called for the creation of a state planning board to deal with Kentucky's postwar problems.

By this statement, Dr. McVey supported the views of Dr. Herman L. Donovan, president of the University, heard in an earlier broadcast.

"It is quite evident," Dr. McVey declared, "that there is much need of careful and systematic planning if we are to deal with the problems which will face us on the coming of peace."

Courses By Mail Offered Servicemen

The Armed Forces Institute has designated the University to cooperate in providing correspondence courses for military personnel at reduced rates. Louis Clifton, director of University extension, has announced.

According to the plan, the government will pay one-half the cost of texts and tuition for enlisted men in the United States Army who have been in active service not less than four months and enlisted men and officers of the Navy, Coast Guard, and Marine Corps who have been in active service not less than two months. Women in the auxiliaries may take the courses under the same conditions as the men.

Ziemer Stresses Student Duties

That it is the duty of present students of colleges and universities of the United States to prepare themselves for mental rehabilitation when this war is over, was stressed by Gregor Ziemer, WLW radio commentator, at the first convocation of the summer quarter.

"We should begin to realize and appreciate our blessings, and make up our minds to keep them," he stated. "We let this happen to us because we underestimated our enemies, but we will not let this happen again."

He said that the youth of America who are fortunate enough to be attending colleges and universities should realize their responsibilities. He declared that "we have to win the war physically first, then mentally. This is the greatest challenge ever. It is up to us."

Let Me Call You Darling, I Love Your Chewing Gum

By Betty Lee Fleishman

Tuesday we spent one of the most profitable days of our life when we casually walked into McVey hall, descended the stairs to the basement, opened the screen door to the Campus Book Store, and confronted Jimmy Morris, manager, with the question, "Any news?"

After handing us a coke, Morris began a long narration of varied news that might interest the students and soldiers who make the store their daily hang-out; that is, everyone on the campus.

"First of all," said Morris, "I want all of the students to know that I will buy all the used books that they have to sell this fall. I felt badly about being unable to buy any books last spring but I just didn't know which books would be needed and how many students would be back."

"Secondly, I would like to explain the necessity of that little card by the rows of chewing gum which reads: 'For Servicemen Only.' The book store is able to sell the gum only through the use of a permit issued by Col. B. E. Brewer and after promising the wholesaler that the gum would be sold only to Col. Brewer's men. No sooner did Morris finish the statement than a cute little coed waltzed up to a big blonde brute of a soldier and with a winsome smile popped her gum and said, 'Here's a nickel, big boy, how about getting me a package of spearmint, please?'"

Morris sold the package of gum to the soldier and commented, "They often manage to get around the sign."

"Another thing," Morris went on, "I'd like the students and soldiers to know that we will wrap any package for them for mailing. It is one of our services and we are glad to do it. Nothing thrills us more than mailing packages abroad, especially when they are addressed to the boys who were once our customers and who are now across fighting our war for us."

"The students and servicemen have certainly changed during the 20 years that I have been here," he continued. "Not long ago we couldn't sell any of our books except those required for classes. Now other books sell so fast that we have had to move our bookcase to the front of the store for the convenience of the students. And they don't seem to be interested in recent publications or best sellers. We have had a heck of a time getting rid of our copies of Walter Lippman's 'Foreign Policy,' while books in the field of philosophy, poetry, and standard classics have sold like hot cakes. Another good seller is the Metropolitan Opera Guide."

"One more thing," he continued as we sipped the last remnants from our bottle, "we have arrived at the conclusion that both the soldiers and students are about equal when it comes to throwing trash about. We have made one big improvement however and that is to take the tops off the wastebaskets. The boys now have fun shooting their trash at the waste cans. One day last week one professor almost got clipped by a soldier trying to make a basket with an empty Dixie cup. There certainly is never a dull moment around here," Morris concluded with a smile.

That was all he had to say and perhaps you wonder why we feel that it was one of our most profitable afternoons? Well the answer is that Morris called after us as we gathered up our notes and headed toward the news room. "Write a good story and I'll buy you a coke every day this week and next week—and you can bring a soldier friend in with you too!"

Donovan Speaks

That the most important thing in the world at the present time is to carry on the war successfully but at the same time uphold education by competent planning, was stressed by Dr. H. L. Donovan, president of the University, in a convocation address this summer.

Teaching staffs in the state have been greatly reduced in the past year due to the Selective Service act and the defense industries which attract young women because of the high salaries, Dr. Donovan said.

ZBT Makes Top Frat Standing

Zeta Beta Tau made the highest average scholastic standing among the 13 fraternities on the campus during the spring quarter, with an average of 1.906, according to an announcement from the office of the Dean of Men. Alpha Gamma Rho was second with an average of 1.829.

Phi Sigma Kappa led for pledges with a standing of 1.733. Phi Delta Theta and Kappa Sigma were second and third respectively with averages of 1.600 and 1.054.

Only thirteen men were pledged to fraternities during the spring quarter. For the 145 men affiliated with fraternities the average standing was 1.623.

Title Procured To Men's Dorms

The University has procured title to the three men's dormitories located on the campus which were built with money supplied by the Security Trust company and leased to the school.

On September 1, the University paid $165,000 to retire the debt and the deed was filed in the office of the county clerk.

The money was part of a capital outlay appropriation granted the University by the General Assembly to be used for construction of a field house. Wartime priorities prevented the building of the field house, and any part of the fund remaining at the end of this year would have reverted to the state.

Part of the fund was used to purchase a site for the proposed field house.

Former UK Men Die In Plane Crash

Two former students of the University, Pilot Officer Sid Buckley of the Royal Canadian Air force, and Lieut. Phillip R. Sallee, Jr., U. S. Army Air force, died in recent airplane crashes.

Buckley, former editor of the Kentuckian and president of the student body, graduated from the University in 1939. Lieut. Sallee attended the University for two years prior to his enlistment in the air forces as an aviation cadet.

Palmore Is Elected

H. D. Palmore, class of '14, Frankfort construction engineer, was elected president of the University Alumni association at a luncheon for the '43 graduating class.

Palmore is a member of the University board of trustees and the board's executive committee. He succeeds G. Lee McClain, Bardstow.

Men Transferred

Two men from the staff of the military department of the University, Lieut. Col. Marshall J. Noyes and Major Gerald Griffin, were ordered to new posts this summer.

Col. Noyes, assistant professor of military science, was named commandant of the 1557th medical unit at the University of Louisville. Major Griffin, senior instructor of the Advanced ROTC, was ordered to report to the Command and General Staff school at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

Major Griffin has recently returned to the University staff with the rank of lieutenant-colonel.

SGA President Plans Activities

Plans for activities of the SGA for the coming year have been announced by Vincent Spagnuolo, president.

This year the SGA will operate under its new constitution, which was adopted during the latter part of the spring quarter. Under the new set-up the legislature will be increased from 22 to 29 members, who were also elected in the spring.

Entertainment of the trainees stationed on the campus and aid as far as possible in the war effort will be two of the primary concerns of the organization, Spagnuolo said.

Some of the specified plans are to sponsor the War Chest Drive in October by canvassing the campus and contacting all students and trainees; to establish a Victory committee to sell war stamps and bonds during the year and to aim for a goal that will approximate $18,000; to unite all social committees into one group which will set dates for all social events on the campus and will initiate and execute all these affairs; to institute an Honor System if the sentiment of the students seems to favor it; and to publish the student directory each quarter, the president stated.

Tandy Is Speaker

So long as there is an Englishman to fight and so long as free thinking peoples of the world wish to remain free Great Britain will continue to fight for freedom and democracy, was stressed by Arthur H. Tandy, His Majesty's Consul at Cincinnati, who spoke in Memorial hall, August 4.

Having been in the consular service for fifteen years, Tandy has had opportunities to analyze the feelings that exist between Americans and Britons today, and he stated that he was "shocked at the misconception in the minds of Americans about the status of British colonies." He said that Canada, India, South Africa, Ireland, Scotland, and all the dominions under the rule of the British Crown could

Sports Program Offered In Summer

A full recreational program was offered without credit or additional tuition fees to regular summer quarter students during both terms. Miss Margaret Warren served as director of summer recreational sports.

The activities were primarily designed for those who wished to acquire certain skill and teaching technique in the respective sports as well as to provide enjoyable recreational activities.

Included in the activities were archery, social dancing, tennis, volleyball, bowling, and softball.

Radio Studios Begin Round-Table Series Over WHAS Sunday

The University Radio studios will inaugurate a series of round-table discussions dealing with problems of the postwar world Sunday over radio station WHAS, Louisville.

Conducted by W. R. Sutherland, assistant professor of English, the broadcasts will be heard from noon to 12:30 p.m. each Sunday. This series will take the place of the group of discussions, "Kentucky in Prospect," which ended Sunday.

Guests on the first program, entitled "Agriculture in the Postwar World," will be Dr. Fordyce Ely, professor of dairy husbandry; L. A. Bradford, assistant professor of farm management; and Ernest Hillmeyer, Fayette county farmer.

Get Ready, Men!

The Date bureau, which introduced many a boy in uniform to many a lovely co-ed this summer, is ready to get under way again.

Mary Jane Gallaher, chairman of the committee, has as her co-workers Mary Lou Monroe and Libby Deal, in addition to a representative from each sorority and residence unit. Representing the ASTP are three soldiers, one from each company.

Delving into Date bureau history, we find that it was organized last June in answer to many requests from soldiers who wanted to meet campus girls. Several parties were given during the first term of summer school.

Parties planned this quarter are on the dates of October 16, November 19, December 4, and December 18.

Bert Johnson Heads Athletics At Reform Houses

Bert Johnson, former University and professional football star, has been appointed recreational director and coach of all athletics at the Greendale Houses of Reform.

Johnson, who was known as "Man o' War" while at the University, later played with the Chicago Bears of the National Professional Football league.

After winning acclaim as a runner while a member of the University's freshman team in 1935, Johnson was hailed as one of the best sophomore halfbacks in the history of the school. As a junior and senior his fame became more widespread and he received honorable mention on several All-America teams as well as a number of votes for other post-season all-star combinations.

After he was graduated in 1939, he was signed by the Chicago Bears, with whom he performed for three years. He was then traded to the Chicago Cardinals and played two years with that team.

Meals At Commons But No Parties

Although the Student Union Commons is providing meals for the military men on the campus, it is also open to civilian students three meals a day, according to an announcement from the director.

No special parties will be served by the Commons this year, however.

When men speak ill of thee, so live that nobody will believe them. —Plato.

Woman-Wise Prof Uses Psychology

That University professors are in stride with the times has been aptly illustrated by one professor who believes in making the merchandise fit the customer.

When the manager of the print shop asked him what color to make the cover of his new work-book, he threw the query to a passing co-ed. "Victory Red!" was her reply.

So after a momentary consideration of various detachable covers to suit feminine changes in apparel, he made his decision. Victory Red it is.
